

Mini-Budget delivers 14 extra lawyers to DPP

November 11 2008

The Rees Government will provide funding for an extra 14 lawyers for the Office of the Director of Public Prosecutions (ODPP) as part of the Mini-Budget.

NSW Attorney General , John Hatzistergos said the 14 additional lawyers will be located in the following locations to meet workload demands:

- 5 additional lawyers in Sydney
- 4 additional lawyers in Western Sydney (Penrith, Campbelltown and Parramatta)
- 4 additional lawyers in regional offices (Newcastle, Gosford, Wagga Wagga, Dubbo and Lismore)

The NSW Government will fund the positions for two years from January 1, 2009 at a cost of $1.4 million per annum.

In the meantime, the new Executive Director of the ODPP – a position created on the recommendation by the NSW Auditor General to oversee wise spending and employment commencing October 28, 2008 – will work to ensure resources are deployed more effectively and spread more evenly so that the ODPP will be in a position to fund the additional legal placements itself.
